

BOUNCING BACK

On 29 June we went to see the opening night of Gail Young's comedy drama Bouncing Back. The play follows a diverse group of women with different stories and reasons for coming back to netball. The characters are brilliant – funny and endearing. They support each other and voice concerns that we can all relate to as well as other more serious issues. The audience quickly gets behind the team and their wonderful coach as they begin to train and look ahead to their first match. We see the difficulties of getting to training and securing funding, along with heartache and newfound happiness. The ladies idolise Manchester Thunder and Tracey Neville and it is their passion for the sport that unites the audience and characters. There are thousands of women across the country who have gone back to netball, passionately supporting each other and their favourite teams; to see this played out on stage is an entertaining and moving reminder of our ability to bounce back, make new friends and achieve new goals.

The play will be touring in 2017 and 2018 in the lead-up to the 2019 Netball World Cup in Liverpool. For more information click here or check out their Facebook page.
